Procedure to check the Plagiarism / Self-Plagiarism in Publication, Synopsis & Thesis:

- All supervisors are eligible to obtain login credentials in Urkund (Ouriginal) to check for similarities in their scholarly publications, synopses, and theses.
- The document to be checked for similarity should be uploaded to the Urkund software using the supervisor's login credentials.
- Once the document is fully uploaded to Urkund, the plagiarism similarity check will exclude the following:
 - i. Quoted work that has been reproduced with proper permission and/or attribution.
 - ii. References, bibliography, table of contents, preface, and acknowledgements.
 - iii. Generic terms, laws/principles, standard symbols, and standard equations/formulas.
 - iv. When the same document is checked for similarity multiple times, the duplicates will be excluded.
 - v. When checking thesis documents for similarity, the claimed publications in the thesis will be excluded. Additionally, unclaimed publications meeting the conditions specified in clause 16.2 of the Ph.D. regulations will also be excluded.
- After checking the documents for similarity and ensuring a plagiarism level of 0, the scholar should submit the report generated by the plagiarism checking software.
- The Centre for Research (CFR) will review the scholar's publications, synopses, and theses for similarity and verify the submitted plagiarism report.
- If any scholar's publications, synopses, or theses are found to be plagiarized, the scholar will be called for an inquiry at CFR and will be advised to rectify the plagiarism. The scholar must resubmit the documents with the appropriate penalty prescribed by the UGC.
